SUMMARY

CRM and lifecycle marketer who finds the customers who quietly stopped buying and builds the journeys that bring them back. I pull the cohorts in SQL myself, orchestrate the journeys in CleverTap, and prove the lift against a randomized control group rather than a before-and-after chart. I have owned a lifecycle loop end to end at a fintech used by millions of small businesses, and have worked remotely to Sydney hours from Budapest and to Manila hours before that. Unprompted lifecycle case studies of Wise and Figma show the same method applied to companies that never hired me.

SELECTED RESULTS

- Reactivated 245 dormant borrowers worth USD 340K (PHP 19.18M) in new lending, measured against a randomized control group.
- Recovered USD 3.9M (PHP 219M) in transaction value at 98% product uptime by tracing a failure Marketing did not own.
- Cut cost per acquisition 48% and doubled monthly conversions for an Australian furniture brand on the same budget.

Scope: CRM and lifecycle for the MSME segment. Behavioral segmentation in SQL and Databricks, journey orchestration in CleverTap across in-app, push, SMS and email, and incrementality reporting to Product and Finance.

- Reactivated 245 dormant borrowers, worth PHP 19.18M (about USD 340K) in loan volume and PHP 1.26M (USD 22K) in fees, by building a four-message CleverTap win-back journey on a cohort I queried in SQL, with a capped 30% incentive and a randomized control group.
- Recovered PHP 219M (about USD 3.9M) in transaction value at 98% product uptime by diagnosing supplier failure rather than a campaign problem, then leading a zero downtime marketplace migration with Product and Engineering.
- Drove PHP 467M (about USD 8.3M) in transaction value, up 28%, and grew active transactors 32% through a tiered rewards program modeled with Finance so growth stayed profitable.
- Revived a dormant 33,500 member merchant community, lifting active transactors 35% and transaction value 27% through weekly transaction gated campaigns.
